People, Places, and Things . . .

the shapers, scenes, and symbols of events that make a year

for those who are a part of it.

We present that which remain

after activity has ceased.

May every individual delight in projection

as he supplements this record of 1960-1961

with his own impressions and sentiments.

Class of 1961

ANN ANDERSON
President of the Freshman Class

The 1960-61 freshman class officers: Martha Walsh, vice-president; Marjorie Rehm, treasurer; Betsy Holshouser, secretary.

Girls in white lending a helping hand . . . "How can we make this room livable?" . . . placement tests . . . rules, rules, rules . . . hall meetings . . . registration day—mass confusion . . . closed study for 3 hours? . . . quality points and hours . . . "Hail O Mighty Cats, I am a lowly rat" . . . big sis . . . which society is best for me? . . . grades, privilege and elections.

Although freshmen are supposed to observe closed study, there are times when fun and fellowship prevail.

We put our noses to the grind and worked with and for the sophomores for an extremely eventful rat week.

A BIG SISTER CLASS

200 "little sisters," 40 "big sisters"!!?? . . .
class meetings in third floor phone booth? . . .
choice chapel seats . . . volleyball champions
. . . highland flingers . . . stately marshals . . .
Forbis' "advisees" . . . major field and "chronic parallelitis" . . . three down, one to go . . . St.
Andrews seniors.

These are just a few of the "beatniks" who hovered around the "mad pad" for the big sister-little sister party.

HEATHER

... and Determination

Preceding volumes of THE WHITE HEATHER have pictured life at Flora Macdonald in that year, thus producing with forty volumes a panoramic view of traditions and spirit through the years. With this forty-first member of THE WHITE HEATHER family we have attempted to show the life of 1960-1961 with the present student body. However, we have tried to meet the challenge of summarizing the spirit of Flora Macdonald College—this we found to be her people, places, and things.

A yearbook in its infancy . . .

Senior Scribblers look at their classmates. Master improvisors of quotes . . . the search for a "pithy" phrase . . . armchair psychologists . . . "It may be the time of night, but I like that." Scribblers are: Joan Carter, Marty McCormick, Judy Wienges, Linda Phillips, Chris Snyder, Lorine Mitchell Kerrigan, Ginny Woods.

PINE AND THISTLE

Reading compositions—editing, correcting, then typing . . . "Who can proofread this tonight?" cover sketches by Caddell . . . very good poem—but what does it mean? The literary magazine, affectionately called "P & T" provides opportunities for creative expression.

St. Andrews Presbyterian College

Welcomes the opportunity of carrying on the deep traditions of Flora Macdonald College. As the seniors go out from Flora Macdonald, our warm wishes go with them. But more than that, we hope that their continued loyalty and warm feelings for what they received at Flora Macdonald will be with St. Andrews as it develops to the fullest the potential of a truly Christian College.
